Southern Surgical Arts to Redefine Personal Beauty

Dr. Carey Nease to open Cosmetic Surgery Practice in Grandview Medical Office Building

JASPER, TN – When it comes to personal beauty and youthful vigor, everyone has his or her own individual definition. Soon, Carey Nease, M.D., and the professionals at Southern Surgical Arts can help patients redefine their own concept of beauty through the artistry and technique of cosmetic surgery.

Southern Surgical Arts, a cosmetic surgery medical practice, is now accepting patients in this area. Patients wishing to possibly improve their appearance, and build or restore self-confidence will be able to consult with Dr. Nease on the latest benefits technological and artistic cosmetic surgery can provide.

“It is my goal to impact the lives of my patients in a way that they are transformed, but not different,” Dr. Nease said. “I want to reveal a healthier, more attractive person so that they look as good on the outside as they feel on the inside.”

Dr. Nease specializes in artistic cosmetic surgery with natural enhancements and minimal downtime using the latest technology available.

Services offered by Southern Surgical Arts include face and neck lifts; laser assisted face lifts; eye and brow lifts; Rhinoplasty and nose reshaping; breast augmentation; breast lifts and reduction; smartlipo; liposculpture and laser body sculpting; tummy tucks; and mommy makeovers among other services.

Dr. Nease is the only double-boarded certified cosmetic surgeon in the Chattanooga area. He graduated from the University of Florida College of Medicine in 1998 before spending five years training in head, neck and facial plastic and reconstructive surgery at the University of Oklahoma. In 2007, he completed an advanced cosmetic surgery fellowship through the American Academy of Cosmetic Surgery. He is a published author in many surgical journals and lectures on cosmetic surgical techniques across the nation.

"There is a need and demand in this area and throughout the tri-state region for a quality cosmetic surgeon the caliber and reputation of Dr. Nease," said Bruce Baldwin, Grandview CEO. "We're happy that Dr. Nease chose to partner his practice with Grandview. It speaks highly of the quality of our hospital and surgery team that he has entrusted us to provide him with necessary support."

Southern Surgical Arts will see patients on Tuesdays at 980 Highway 208, Suite 103, in the Grandview Medical Office Building. More information on the services, the patient satisfaction philosophy of the practice and Dr. Nease may be found at his web site, www.SouthernSurgicalArts.com or by calling 423-266-3331 for more information.
